5) Setting up Business in India

India's diverse and growing economy offers a fertile ground for businesses across various sectors. However, the process of establishing a business here requires meticulous planning, a deep understanding of the legal framework, and efficient coordination with government bodies. Our services cover every aspect of this journey, ensuring a smooth and legally compliant setup.

a) Indian Company Formation:

- Private Limited Company: Ideal for startups and small to medium-sized enterprises, a Private Limited Company allows for limited liability, separate legal entity status, and ease of raising capital through equity shares. It requires a minimum of two directors and shareholders, and must adhere to the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.
- Public Limited Company: Suitable for large businesses with significant capital requirements, a Public Limited Company can offer shares to the public and requires a minimum of three directors and seven shareholders. It involves stringent regulatory compliances, including disclosure and transparency norms as per the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) guidelines.

b) Foreign Company Options:

India has emerged as a vibrant destination for global businesses looking to establish a presence in Asia. Incorporating a foreign company in India offers numerous opportunities, but it also requires navigating a complex regulatory environment. At A2Z Corp advisory Private Limited, we provide end-to-end services to guide foreign companies through the incorporation process, ensuring compliance with Indian laws and regulations while maximizing business potential.

- Liaison Office: A non-commercial setup that allows foreign companies to represent themselves in India. This office is primarily involved in market research, networking, and promoting the parent company's products. It is not permitted to engage in commercial or trading activities directly.
- Branch Office: Allows foreign companies to conduct business in India, including export/import of goods, rendering professional services, and research and development. It is subject to approval from the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and must adhere to Indian taxation laws.
- Project Office: Established for the execution of specific projects in India, particularly in sectors like infrastructure, construction, and IT. The Project Office is temporary and exists only for the duration of the project, providing flexibility in operations.

c) Limited Liability Partnership (LLP):

- LLP Structure: LLPs offer a hybrid structure combining the benefits of a partnership and a company, providing limited liability to the partners while allowing operational flexibility. It's an ideal structure for professional services firms, startups, and businesses with low capital needs. The LLP Act, 2008, governs its formation and operation, and it is increasingly popular due to its simpler regulatory requirements compared to companies.
- Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) in LLPs: Foreign investors can invest in LLPs under the automatic route in sectors where 100% FDI is permitted, and there are no performance-linked conditions. This provides a streamlined entry route for foreign businesses looking to establish a presence in India.

6) Corporate Law & Legal Services

Navigating corporate law is a complex and critical aspect of running a successful business. Our legal experts provide a wide range of corporate law services to ensure your business complies with legal standards while protecting your interests and supporting your growth.

a) Legal Entity Formation & Structuring:

- Entity Selection: Choosing the right legal entity is crucial for your business's long-term success. We help you assess the benefits and drawbacks of different legal structures, such as sole proprietorships, partnerships, LLPs, private limited companies, and public limited companies.
- Structuring Advice: We provide strategic advice on the optimal structuring of your business, including shareholder agreements, equity distribution, and governance frameworks to align with your long-term goals.

- Annual Filings and Returns: We manage all your annual compliance requirements, including the filing of financial statements, annual returns, and other mandatory disclosures with the Registrar of Companies (RoC).
